7.2 Draft of the Revised NCCA Grants Program for the National Artists

Comm. Diokno called attention to page 2, item # 4 of the draft grants program as regards the statement “grants shall be utilized only for projects/works that are intended for non-profit or non-commercial purpose”. She said that it might be problematic in publication projects wherein the books could be sold commercially, and the grantee will get royalty on top of the NCCA funding.

In her reply, Ms. Alincastré explained that in publication projects, it is stipulated in the MOA that the NCCA will get 80% of the total printed copies, and 20% will be retained by the grantee. She cited Salvador Bernal’s publication project, Designing the Stage wherein 80% of the books went to the NCCA.

Comm. Diokno then inquired on the possibility of publication projects that are proposed to or funded by other organizations aside from the NCCA. She asked if the NCCA can ask for a certification that the project is not funded by other organizations.

Ms. Alincastré answered that there has been no such case.

On the query of Comm. Diokno if the honorarium are tax exempt, Ms. Alincastré clarified that taxes are not withheld from the honoraria and there have been no disallowances from the Finance and COA.

Comm. Pañares suggested that the Secretariat seek a written statement or clarification from the COA as regards the withholding of taxes from the honoraria payment in projects of the National Artists.

As regards the uniform rates of honorarium, Ms. Alincastré clarified that in publication projects, the honorarium rate for writing is either PhP 150 Thousand or PhP 300 Thousand depending on the volume of the manuscript.
